Company acknowledges that Williams may in its discretion record its employees' telephone conversations and consents to Williams recording conversations between Williams employees and Company employees, including conversations of Transactions between the Parties.

2.2 Confirmation Procedure:

- (A) Each agreement between the Parties shall be confirmed in writing or Electronic Record by Williams and transmitted by means of telecopy, or other electronic transmission to Company. Company shall promptly execute the Confirmation and return a copy to Williams by means of telecopy. If Company contends that the Confirmation contains any errors, Company shall notify Williams, in writing or by Electronic Record, of any such alleged errors.
- (B) Unless Company furnishes to Williams notice of alleged errors by telecopy or other electronic transmission by the second (2nd) Business Day following the Business Day of receipt of the Confirmation from Williams, the Confirmation shall be conclusive evidence of the Transaction that is the subject matter thereof, and shall, along with the terms herein, be the final expression of all its terms, notwithstanding any failure of Company to execute such confirmation.
- (C) Any telecopy or other electronic transmission shall, when printed, be deemed a “writing” or “in writing” and, when maintained in the ordinary course of business, shall constitute an “original writing.” Any electronic signature, including but not limited to a “bit map” or digital signature, attached to or logically associated with a Confirmation or notice under this Agreement shall be deemed to be a “signature” and satisfy any rule or law requiring a signature. The Parties agree not to contest or assert a defense to the validity or enforceability of an Electronic Record or an electronic signature, in accordance with Agreement, under laws relating to whether certain agreements are to be in writing or signed by the Party to be bound. Neither Party shall object to the admissibility of the Electronic Record or electronic signature on the basis that such were not maintained in documentary form under either the hearsay rule, the best evidence rule, or other rule of evidence.
- (D) The Confirmation shall bind the Parties to the particular Transaction for the purchase, sale, or exchange of or prepayment for Product in accordance with the terms set forth in the Confirmation and herein.

2.3 Equipment and Electronic Record: Williams shall at its expense maintain equipment necessary to generate and send the Electronic Record Confirmation and shall maintain the Electronic Record Confirmation in such a manner as to protect it from improper access; provided, Williams shall not be liable for any equipment malfunction or the operation thereof in respect of any Transaction WITHOUT REGARD TO THE CAUSE OR CAUSES RELATED THERETO, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, THE NEGLIGENCE OF ANY PARTY, WHETHER SUCH NEGLIGENCE BE SOLE, JOINT OR CONCURRENT, OR ACTIVE OR PASSIVE. The Electronic Record Confirmation generated by Williams shall control in the event Electronic Record Confirmations are generated by both Parties.

Section 3. VOLUME

Subject to the other provisions of this Agreement, Delivering Party agrees to sell or exchange and deliver and Receiving Party agrees to purchase or exchange and receive the Contract Quantity or Nominated Volume set forth in the Confirmation. The delivery and acceptance of Product under a Transaction shall be on a ratable basis unless otherwise agreed in a Confirmation.

Section 4. PRICE

4.1 Purchase and Sale: As written in the Confirmation, the Price shall be inclusive of all royalties, currently effective transportation charges, taxes, expenses and costs arising from or attributable to the Product prior to its delivery to the Delivery Point(s). If a transaction is for sale of Product on a delivered basis at Receiving Party's destination, the Confirmation shall so state, and any transportation costs and expenses from the Delivering Terminal to the Delivery Point(s) shall be borne by Receiving Party.

4.2 Exchanges: Except for the Exchange Differentials, taxes, and other governmental fees or charges provided for in any Confirmation, and except as otherwise provided in any Confirmation, exchanges under this Agreement shall be on a Gallon-for-Gallon basis, without the payment of any money by either Party to the other. Unless otherwise provided in the applicable Confirmation, the quantities of Product delivered hereunder shall be kept in approximate balance throughout the term of the exchange Transaction; provided, however, small imbalances may be carried forward from Month to Month upon agreement by the Parties. Upon termination of this Agreement for any reason, the Party having received the smaller volume of Product shall continue to receive Product from the other Party until the deliveries of each Party to the other are as nearly equal in quantity as loading into pipelines, tank cars, or tank trucks will permit. Any small balance then due either Party may be invoiced to the other Party at the then mutually agreed upon market price of the Product at the Point(s) of Delivery.

4.3 Price Redetermination: If the Price for a Transaction is to be calculated or determined by reference to any posted or published price or index and any such posted or published price or index ceases to exist, then the Parties agree to promptly, and in good faith, negotiate a mutually satisfactory replacement. A posted or published price or index will be deemed not to cease to exist in the event that an entity that posts or publishes the particular price or index is replaced or succeeded by a successor entity which carries on substantially the same business and continues to post or publish prices on substantially the same basis as the original entity.

If composite sampling is required, the composite sampling system shall be installed and operated in accordance with GPA standard 2174. The composite sampler shall be operated to collect flow -proportional, based on indicated volume, samples only when there is flow through the meter. These samples shall be accumulated in and removed from a single piston cylinder with mixing capability.

10.3 Limitation of Liability: EXCEPT AS EXPRESSLY PROVIDED HEREIN, NEITHER PARTY SHALL BE LIABLE FOR ANY PROSPECTIVE PROFITS OR SPECIAL, INDIRECT, INCIDENTAL, CONSEQUENTIAL, PUNITIVE OR EXEMPLARY DAMAGES.

Section 11. REMEDIES

11.1 Receiving Party's Failure to Receive (Firm Physical Purchase/Sale and Exchange Transactions Only): With respect to Firm Physical Purchase/Sale and Exchange Transactions, if Receiving Party fails to accept tender of delivery of the Contract Quantity not subject to Force Majeure, or if Delivering Party suspends deliveries pursuant to Paragraphs 8.5 or 12 of this Agreement, Delivering Party shall sell to a third party Buyer, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, the difference between the amount of Product actually accepted by Receiving Party and the Contract Quantity. Delivering Party shall be entitled to reimbursement from Receiving Party for the difference between: (1) the price set forth under this Agreement; and (2) any lesser price obtained from such third party Buyer(s) (or if Delivering Party cannot reasonably sell the Product that is not received by Receiving Party, a commercially reasonable price). Any payments due Delivering Party by Receiving Party under this paragraph shall be made within fifteen (15) Days of receipt of Delivering Party's invoice for such difference; provided, however, Delivering Party first provides Receiving Party with information and documentation supporting Delivering Party's claim for reimbursement.

11.2 Delivering Party's Failure to Deliver (Firm Physical Purchase/Sale and Exchange Transactions Only): With respect to Firm Physical Purchase/Sale and Exchange Transactions, if Delivering Party fails to tender delivery of the Contract Quantity not subject to Force Majeure, Receiving Party shall purchase from a third party supplier, in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, the difference between the amount of Product actually delivered by Delivering Party and the Contract Quantity. Receiving Party shall be entitled to recover from Delivering Party the difference between: (1) the price set forth under this Agreement (Zero Dollars ($0.00) if an Exchange Transaction); and (2) any greater price of replacement Product purchased by Receiving Party and delivered to the Delivery Point(s) (or if Receiving Party cannot reasonably purchase the Product that is not delivered by Delivering Party, a commercially reasonable price). Any payments due Receiving Party by Delivering Party under this paragraph shall be made within fifteen (15) Days of receipt of Receiving Party's invoice for such difference; provided, however, Receiving Party shall first provide Delivering Party with information and documentation supporting Receiving Party's claim for reimbursement.

11.3 Termination of Agreement: In the event the Agreement is terminated early pursuant to Section 8.5 or Section 12 of this Agreement, the Party terminating the Agreement (“Terminating Party”) shall in good faith calculate its liquidated damages for each outstanding Transaction under this Agreement. The liquidated damages shall equal the present value of the economic loss, if any, (including any costs and minus the present value of the economic gain, if any) deemed to have been suffered by Terminating Party as a result of the early termination. Such economic loss shall be determined by subtracting the value of (a) the remaining term, quantities and price under the Transactions had they not been terminated, from (b) the equivalent quantities and relevant market prices for the remaining term. If the calculation of the liquidated damages results in a net amount due to the party in default (“Defaulting Party”), the liquidated damages shall be deemed zero (0). Any payments due Terminating Party under this paragraph shall be made within fifteen (15) Days of receipt of Terminating Party's invoice for such difference; provided, however, Terminating Party first provides Defaulting Party with information and documentation supporting Terminating Party's claim for reimbursement.

11.4 Delivery of Non-Conforming Product: Receiving Party's remedies with respect to any Product furnished by Delivering Party hereunder that is found to be deficient in quality or not to conform with this Agreement shall be limited exclusively to the right to replacement thereof if Delivering Party so elects, or if Delivering Party does not elect to replace the Product, to a refund (or a reduction in invoiced amounts) reflective of the lower of (a) the reduction in market value due to such deficiency or non-conformity or (b) the reasonable cost to make the Product conforming, such amount in no event to exceed the Product Price, or the then existing market price at the Delivery Point(s) in the case of an exchange, multiplied by the quantity of the deficient or non-conforming Product.

11.5 Tank Cars: If Delivering Party furnishes tank cars for delivery to Receiving Party then Receiving Party shall discharge such tank cars immediately upon arrival and deliver such tank cars to the railway from which they were received in accordance with forms and instructions furnished by Delivering Party. If Receiving Party detains any tank car provided by Delivering Party for more than forty-eight (48) hours following Constructive Placement of the tank car by the delivering carrier, then Receiving Party shall pay such railway demurrage as may accrue and shall pay Delivering Party (i) Seventy Five Dollars $75.00 or (ii) the then applicable third party lease rate for tank cars on the spot market in the vicinity of the Delivery Point(s) for the Product, whichever is greater, for each Day or portion of a Day after expiration of the forty eight (48) hour period. Tank cars shall not be diverted without Delivering Party's written consent.

11.6 Sole Remedy: THE REMEDIES SET FORTH HEREIN AND IN ANY APPLICABLE CONFIRMATION SHALL CONSTITUTE THE PARTIES' SOLE AND EXCLUSIVE REMEDIES UNDER THIS AGREEMENT.

Section 12. FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY AND EVENTS OF DEFAULT

Either Party shall have the right from time to time to request pertinent financial information from the other Party to ensure creditworthiness. Williams financial information may be obtained at www.investor.williams.com. When reasonable grounds for insecurity of payment or title to Product arise (whether or not then due), either Party may demand in writing adequate assurance of performance, and in the absence of such assurance from the other Party within two (2) Business Days, suspend further performance and terminate the Agreement. Adequate assurance shall mean sufficient security in the form and for the term reasonably specified by the Party demanding assurance (“Demanding Party”), including, but not limited to, a standby irrevocable letter of credit, a prepayment, a security interest in an asset acceptable to Demanding Party or a performance bond or guarantee by a creditworthy entity. In addition to the foregoing, either Party shall have the right at any time to require other Party to deliver a parent company guarantee in the form and substance satisfactory to other Party. The amount of Adequate Assurance shall not exceed three (3) cumulative Delivery Months within the most recent twelve (12) Month period. In the event either Party shall (i) make an assignment or any general arrangement for the benefit of creditors; (ii) file a petition or otherwise commence, authorize, or acquiesce in the commencement of a proceeding or cause under any bankruptcy or similar law for the protection of creditors or have such petition filed or proceeding commenced against it; (iii) otherwise become bankrupt or insolvent (however evidenced); or (iv) be unable to pay its debts as they fall due; or (v) failure to perform any material covenant or obligation set forth in this Agreement; then the other Party shall have the right to either withhold or suspend deliveries or payment, net and set off all transactions outstanding between the Parties (whether under this Agreement or otherwise and whether or not then due), use all rights, counterclaims and other defenses which it is or may be entitled to at law or arising from the Agreement, including termination of the Agreement in accordance to the terms outlined in Section 8.5. If a Party to this Agreement becomes subject to Bankruptcy Code proceedings, it is understood and agreed that the other Party shall be entitled to exercise its contractual right to liquidate as a forward contract merchant under Section 556 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code. Each Party grants the other Party a continuing first priority security interest in, lien on and right to set off against all Adequate Assurance in the form of cash transferred by transferred between Parties.

Section 13. FORCE MAJEURE

“Force Majeure” shall mean any event or occurrence beyond the reasonable control of a Party that prevents in whole or in part the performance by such Party of any obligation or condition under this Agreement, including, but not limited to acts of God, strikes, lockouts or other industrial disturbances (including those affecting persons transporting Product for either Party), acts of the public enemy, wars, blockades, insurrections, riots, epidemics, landslides, lightning, earthquakes, fires, explosions or other casualty, hurricanes, hurricane warnings, storms, floods, washouts, arrests and restraints of government (federal, state, local, civil or military) and of people, civil disturbances, failure or delays in normal source of supply for the Product, or delays in delivery of any inventory or material, including, without limitation, crude oil, natural gas, natural gasoline, supplies, raw materials and ingredients necessary in the production of the Product, or failures or disruptions in the ability to store or transport such raw materials, Product or any component thereof.

Neither Party shall be entitled to the benefit of Force Majeure under any or all of the following circumstances: To the extent that the failure was caused by the Party claiming suspension having failed to remedy the condition, and to resume the performance of such covenants or obligations with reasonable dispatch; the ability of either Party to obtain a better price for Product; the loss of markets; the loss, interruption, or curtailment of interruptible transportation if firm transportation was available for purchase on any transporter necessary to effect receipt or delivery of Product hereunder, unless caused by a Force Majeure event; or economic hardship.

Except with regard to a Party's obligation to make payments as they become due hereunder, if either Party is rendered unable, wholly or in part, by Force Majeure to perform or comply with any obligation or condition of this Agreement, such obligation or condition shall be suspended during the period and to the extent of the inability so caused and such Party shall be forever excused from its performance obligations during such period and to such extent, relieved of liability and shall suffer no prejudice for failure to perform the same during such period and to such extent; provided, however, the Party claiming the occurrence of an event of Force Majeure shall promptly advise the other Party in writing of that Force Majeure event, and the cause of suspension (other than strikes or lockouts) shall be remedied so far as possible with reasonable dispatch. The settlement of strikes or lockouts shall be entirely within the discretion of the Party experiencing such. Should Delivering Party's supply of Product for sale under this Agreement be dependent in whole or in part upon production from a plant that is damaged or destroyed, Delivering Party shall not be obligated to repair or rebuild such plant in order to fulfill this Agreement.

Section 14. REGULATORY AUTHORITY

This Agreement and each provision hereof shall be subject to all valid applicable federal and state laws and to the orders, rules and regulations of any duly constituted federal or state regulatory body or authority having jurisdiction.

Sections 2000e et seq.) and its implementing regulations (29 C.F.R. Part 1608).

Section 16. SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the respective successors and assigns of the Parties hereto, provided that this Agreement shall not be transferred or assigned, by operation of law or otherwise, by either Party without the other Party's prior written consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Either Party, however, may assign its rights and obligations hereunder to any Affiliate which succeeds by assignment, purchase, merger, consolidation or otherwise to all or substantially all of the assets of the assigning Party upon written notice to the other Party. Nothing in this clause in any way prevents either Party from pledging or mortgaging all or any part of such Party's property as security.
